

THE BETH SHA'UL SYNAGOGUE

The Beth Sha'ul Synagogue was founded in 1912 on Lorne Hill Road (next to the Maslovsky Farm) in the RM of Springfield in what was referred to as "Jew Town". It was in the heart of a small community of European Jewish immigrants trying to earn their livelihood as farmers. The community was near the corner of Garven Road and Hwy 59 close to Birds Hill Provincial Park, Manitoba. The original congregation was started by David Spivak (great grandfather of Sydney Spivak –former leader of the Progressive Conservative Party of Manitoba) who was the president, Mendell Peikoff, Moishe Daiter, Nuchum Henoch Lazar, Meyer Checik, and Abraham Slobinsky. Members included the families of Eva(Solomon) and Joseph Maslovsky , and Mr. and Mrs. Pernarsky, and Mr. and Mrs. Goldfine and later Mr. and Mrs. Davido and family. Mr. Kanizynski who lived kitty corner from the shul taught the boys of the community their Maftir lessons. The shul was a 2 room building with separate rooms one for the men and one for the women and children—not fancy but there was a bimah, 3 torahs (2 kosher- 1 questionable) and an eternal light. On July 18, 1919 my Baba Genendal (Getrurude) Lazar married my Zaida Eliezar (Louis) Lazar at the Beth Sha' ul Synagogue. After the ceremony the bridal party walked across Lorne Hill Road to the Daiter farm where a reception was held in a tent.

In the 1920s there were approximately 10-12 Jewish families in the area using the Synagogue. High Holiday services were held with a Rabbi coming out to lead the service from Winnipeg. Sam Maslovsky always blew the shofar for the congregation.

The synagogue was unused for much of its last decade. It was demolished by my Dad and his brothers in 1957. The torahs were donated (to where- is unknown) and the corner stone of the shul was passed down by Ron Lazar to my cousin Gary Lazar who donated it to the Jewish Historical Society of Western Canada.
